

Temple University Harrisburg is proud to announce
The Inaugural
Strengths-based Family Worker Conference

JUNE 16-18, 2015

Temple University Harrisburg
Harrisburg, PA

Day One, June 16, 2015: SFW Implementers Forum

TUH invites SFW Instructors, Learning Coaches and coordinators from across the country to participate in a day of networking and learning. This highly interactive session will allow SFW implementers to share program success and challenges, receive feedback and input from peers, and gain valuable insight to support the growth of their initiative. Registration fee: $25

Day 2 June 17, 2015: Symposium on Strengths-based Work with Families

Professionals from a wide range of help-giving organizations will share highlights of their strengths-based practice and provide insight into skills necessary to engage and empower families. Professionals, students and volunteers wishing to deepen their understanding of the strengths-based approach, learn and practice empowerment skills, and network with other help-givers are encouraged to attend. Registration Fee: $75

Day 3 June 18, 2015: Strengths-based Leadership Workshop

Join TUH as we launch the Strengths-based Leadership Certificate program! This workshop will provide leaders the opportunity to reflect on the qualities of strengths-based leaders including leadership styles, critical reflection, and identifying strengths. The workshop is a stand-alone learning opportunity and is also one of five which can lead to the new TUH Strengths-based Leadership Certificate. Participants who attend all five workshop, complete a project demonstrating their skills, and present the project at a sixth workshop will be awarded the certificate. Registration Fee: $75
